

Culture to me means what people live do that's apart of what their ansecters did what celebrations they have that's to remember their old ways like, clothing, skin color, and crafts.